

A VERY EXCITING AND PARTISAN
DEBATE IN STORE.

The Democrats Will Make a Very Bitter Fight When the Report Comes Up For Action—Some Important Papers—Doings in the House and Senate—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The report submitted to the senate by Mr. Edmunds in regard to the suspension of Federal officers and the declination of the administration to furnish papers on file bearing upon their character and official integrity is the talk of the city, and Democrats speak of it as the "Edmunds rebellion." It has not yet been decided whether the Democratic members of the judiciary committee shall offer a substitute for the Edmunds report or whether they will make their fight in debate when the report of the majority comes up for action.

A caucus will be held, when a definite line of action will be determined. Senators Pugh, Jackson and Kenna are equipped for the battle and will, they say, be abundantly fortified with precedents to offset those given by the majority. The caucus will discuss other important papers, a democratic senator has in his possession the copy of a letter written by Mr. Sherman when secretary of the treasury, declining to furnish Mr. Conkling, then senator, with reasons for the suspension of Arthur as collector of the port of New York.

The co-operation and legal assistance of Attorney General Garland, it is thought, will be requested by the minority in preparing their case. The controversy will be bitter, and the result, which indicates a very exciting session debate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, asked to have printed in the Record Judge Advocate Holt's review of the testimony in the Fitz John Porter case. The request was granted.

Mr. Hewitt, of New York, called up the joint resolution tendering the thanks of congress to Joseph Francis, as the inventor of life-saving appliances, and authorizing the president to present him a gold medal.

Mr. Scott, of Pennsylvania, opposed the resolution, claiming that Capt. Douglas Ottinger, of the revenue marine service, was the inventor and had already been recognized as such by congress.

Mr. Hewitt explained that his resolution was in conformity with petitions from the chamber of commerce and the American Institute of New York, and was not prejudicial to any inventor.

Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, from the post-office committee, reported a resolution inquiring of the postmaster general what amount of the $51,000 appropriated for the fourth and fifth class postal clerks at the rate $1,200 and $1,400 per year, had been used. Adopted.

The house then went into committee of the whole on private calendar. (Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, in the chair.) On the first bill on the calendar Mr. Scott, of Pennsylvania, offered a verbal amendment and proceeded to make a speech on silver.

Resolutions.—WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Mr. Manderson offered a resolution directing the secretaries of state and war to inquire into the murder of Capt. Crawford by Mexicans last month, and to report to the committee on the subject. To punish the murderers. Mr. Manderson read the official report of Lieut. Maus on the matter, and said if the facts were correctly stated the report was a strong reflection on the Mexican troops. He paid a high tribute to the courage and soldierly devotion of Capt. Crawford, and hoped that the United States government would take prompt action necessary from the Mexican government, in case that government proved to be responsible for the action of her troops in this instance. The committee on foreign relations then referred the committee on foreign relations.

Mr. Edmunds introduced a bill "relating to the eight-hour law." He said the bill related to the eight hours of labor beyond the eight hours beyond human endurance.

New York, Feb. 30.—The state of New Jersey has demanded that Attorney General Anderson refuse to issue any more warrants on the treasurer, on account of the decision of the supreme court declaring the railroad tax unconstitutional. Under this decision the law was raised $900,000 of the $1,300,000 of the state's annual revenue. The railroad may think it wise to continue paying the tax until the legislature can be induced to order that the state will have to depend upon gifts of public-spirited citizens or the sale of securities owned by the treasury. The decision leaves a headwind to the assembly. Thruout the year has been the sound of the wheels of justice, the sound of the wheels of justice.

Hold Holdup.
LAMPASAS, Tex., Feb. 20.—At Montvale on the Gulf Colorado & Santa Fe railroad east of here, three masked men rode up to the depot, dismounted and entering the office covered the railroad agent, W. E. Cox, with their Winchester. While one held Cox at bay the other two rifled the open safe and secured over eight hundred dollars in currency. The money belonged to the express and railroad companies. The men quickly remounted and rode off, firing their pistols as they went. Sheriff Wolf has started after them with a posse and it is believed a first class fight will take place when they overhauled the robbers.

A Horrible Crime.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 29.— ten-year-old daughter of George N. Jennings, a wealthy merchant of Southington, was assaulted in the street in that town on Wednesday by an unknown man, and after great suffering died. All efforts to trace her assailant has failed. Three little girls saw the crime committed, but ran away frightened and can give only a meagre description of the man. It is supposed that he was a sailor from a vessel that was in the harbor that
